

The Canal Town Book Festival is inviting sponsors for our upcoming festival on Saturday, October 3, 2026.

The Canal Town Book Festival features the largest author fair in the Tuscarawas Valley and several panels on writing and publishing on Saturday, October 3rd from 10am - 3pm. Our event is located at Dover High School and led by a committee of Dover Public Library staff and community members. We want to connect with you and encourage your sponsorship of this important literary event. All contributions help offset costs related to the event, including activities for children and guests, print materials, marketing and other items that will ensure the Canal Town Book Festival is a success.

Tuscarawas County has a long standing history of supporting authors and literacy. This would not be possible without the support of local businesses like yours. Sponsorship continues Tuscarawas County's tradition of literary support, and brings advertising to your company or organization.

Several sponsorship packages at different levels of investment are available. We look forward to working with you in making this event a remarkable one!

Thanks

Canal Town Book Festival Committee
